	The outdoor classroom and how the children can benefit from using it during breaktime.	We discussed the space inside the outdoor classroom, the children suggested it could be used wisely at breaktimes. • A place where children could use it like a buddy bench. • Somewhere where they could talk to their friends about how they are feeling. • Having some books in there for them to read as the library is often full. The children said that they feel since the trim trail is open it is a more positive area and much happier as they are more active.	Discuss with Mr South • Can the outdoor classroom be used as a quiet zone at breaktimes? • Could we have a box of books/magazines for the children to read in there?
